

Water, Water Everywhere!

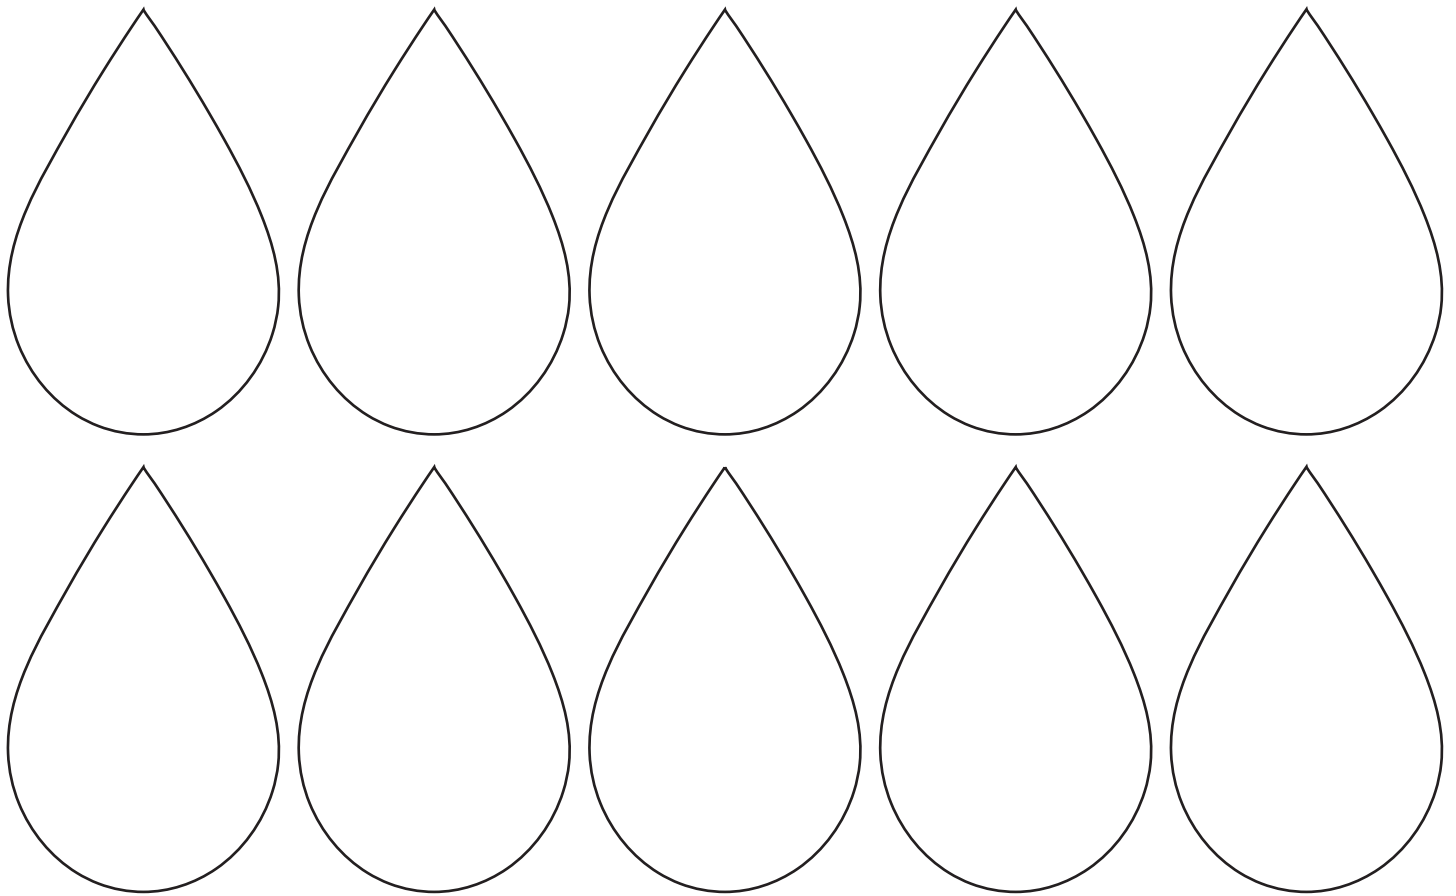

Amazing Fact

Only a very small amount of the water on earth is drinkable.

Challenge

Think about water. It is truly amazing. We use it so much we could not live without it, yet we often take it for granted.

Write what you think are the top ten uses of water on the droplets below.

You could also try to find out:

- when bottled water was first offered for sale;
- what people used to drink when there was no safe drinking water;
- the difference between animals that live in freshwater and those that live in saltwater.
